

Many of your employees are facing financial hardships related to COVID-19 and TrueConnect can help. At no cost to you, the employer, TrueConnect is an employee loan program helping your staff cover unexpected expenses.

With reduced hours, spouses that have been laid off, and extra childcare costs, the average unplanned expense is around $3,500, which many Americans don't have in a savings account¹. We are experiencing this in real-time, in mass quantities, across the nation with this pandemic.

The TrueConnect program includes free financial counseling if your employees want to talk to a professional about their specific financial challenges. Hopefully, these times are short-lived. No matter the duration, TrueConnect is here for you and your employees.

Here are some links for more details on the program.
